SUN BEAMS

By WALTER M. BARRETT

While we sincerely congratulate Ed Peace on his promotion in the Southern Pacific and wish him the best of luck in his new job, it is with regret that we see him leave Truckee. He has been a valuable man in the community from many standpoints and we could do with many of his calibre.

During his stay in Truckee as the pastor of the Community Methodist Church, Rev. Keetch has proven himself a valuable man in the district and the news that he has been reappointed to fill the pulpit here for the next year is indeed gratifying. In the few months that he has been pastor, Rev. Keetch has done a fine job. His Sunday school attendance nears the century mark each week and the various organizations formed for the boys and girls are of great advantage. His diligent work should be rewarded by the full cooperation of the community.

Believe it or not fishing gets better and better on the Truckee river and at Lake Tahoe as the season advances. Scores of of limits are reported and even the rank amateurs are finding pleasure in the sport. During the next few weeks we will be called upon to again do our share in restocking the streams after the fine season and if we are to keep sportsmen satisfied as they should be this season, we must heed the call for aid and do all we can to keep the river and streams full of trout.

ACCUSED TRUCKEE THIEF NABBED IN SOUTHERN CITY

Sanderson Held In Jail As Prelimenary Hearing Date Set

Through the efforts of Deputy Sheriff N. F. Dolley, Herbert E. Sanderson, a former Lake Tahoe carpenter, was arrested in Fresno this week on a charge on grand theft and is now being held in the county jail at Nevada City awaiting a preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace C. E. Smith next Wednesday.

Sanderson was accused by Ernest Siri of the Capital Cafe of entering his room at the Donner Hotel and stealing watches and jewelry valued at nearly $300. The watches, Dolley was informed by the sheriff of Fresno were found with Mrs. Sanderson at Clovis.

Continuation of Northern California's $10,000,000 housing program was predicted as a result of Congressional action extending the FHA property improvement credit plan.

Amendments to the act regulating this form of government insured financing lent impetus to the program and from March through December last year FHA insured 17,212 loans totaling $9,861,865.11 for the improvement of porperty in the 46 counties comprising the Northern California district.

The success of the campaign sponsored by local civic groups is attested by the fact that loans amounting to $311,855.80 were insured by FHA last year to finance 254 improvement projects in Nevada County.

In addition to loans insured under the property improvement credit plan, it was stated that FHA last year selected for appraisal 18.544 mortgages in Northern California homes amounting to $84,560,600. Of that number 14 mortgages totaling $47,200 were on homes in this county.

Fire At Rotary Oil Plant Here Was Threatening

Department Makes Record Run To Extinguish Blaze

A fire of undetermined origin but which was believed to have started from a carelessly tossed burning cigarette or match, Tuesday night caused between $300 and $500 damage at the Rotary Oil and Burner Company plant south of the railroad tracks before the volunteer fire department, with excellent work, gained control.

The fire had a good start in the pump house when the departmenet arrived and in a few minutes would probably have resulted in a dangerous blaze.

Portions of the building, a motor and pumps were all badly damaged

A charred section of dry grass near the pump house bore mute evidence of where the fire had its inception, Chief N. F. Dolley declared, but he declined to fix the blame.

When the alarm sounded a long freight train barred the road to the scene of the fire but the engine crews cooperated in a splendid manner and with a sudden burst of speed had the crossing cleared.

Kielhofer To Replace Pearce As President Of Local Rotary

He will be replaced here by Harvey Greene, trainmaster at Dunsmuir and a former Truckee resident.

Pearce started his service with the railroad in Truckee many years ago as a brakeman and steadily worked his way up through the various jobs to the one he now holds.

His departure left the presidency of the Truckee Rotary Club vacant and at the meeting Monday Karl Kielhofer was advanced to the post and Verne Pearson was elected as a director. Three new members, Paul Crandall and Ket Ketman of Tahoe, and Walter Ashton of Truckee were initiated. New officers will be installed Monday at a Ladies' Night to be held at Tahoe Inn.

Pearce also served on the Truckee Fire District board and his successor will be named later.

Murder Charge Filed Following Summit Slaying

INQUEST IS HELD TUES.

Prisoner Says Victim Had "It Coming" For Torment

COLFAX, June 22— Coroner Francis West made an inquest of the slaying Sunday of Edward Kading, 24, Casey, Iowa, a WPA employe, by John Osborne, 42, also a WPA worker on a Forest Service project at Big Bend, near Rainbow Tavern.

District Attorney Lowell Sparks of Placer coutny said Osborne had confessed and a murder charge would be lodged against him.

The shooting took place at Big Bend as the climax to a series of jokes of which Osborne had been the butt at Rainbow Tavern where both men had been drinking.

Osborne told West and Constable Winston Way of Dutch Flat that the victim "ribbed me until I couldn't stand it any longer."

He said Kading refused to retract a name which belittled Osborne's ancestory.

Osborne was taken to the county jail at Auburn where he told officers: "I am sorry I killed him, but he had it coming."

Tracer Bullet Law For Forests Is In Effect

It is now unlawful to have in possession or fire or cause to be fired any tracer bullet or tracer charge onto or across National Forest land, according to information received by officials of the Tahoe National Forest at Nevada City. They have a solid dark back and head and silver sides. All those caught weighed nearly two pounds each.

FINISH THE JOB

Lieutenant Governor Patterson has declared for the office of United States Senator in 1940. Half way through one job he would quit to take on another.

When the people went to the polls in California in 1938 they elected Patterson, in preference to some of California's finest statesmen, as lieutenant governor. They chose him to serve FOUR years in the position. Now he would turn over the duties of the office he was elected to to Majority Leader Jerrold Seawell, one of the men the voters turned down in preference to "Pat." Rightly or wrongly, he took on the job and should finish it instead of leaving it half done.

Will the people stand for this betrayal of trust? Will the people stand for being used as cobblestones for the personal ambitions of Ellis E. Patterson? Will the people of California tolerate a quitter in the seats of the mighty? If the answer is "NO", as it should be, we will see Senator Hiram W. Johnson doing service at the same old stand in 1941. And if Patterson is as conscientious as he claims, he, too, will be at his stand in front of the State Senate at the same time.

MUM'S THE WORD

Secretary Ickes plumps for Roosevelt's third term, but the President remains silent. Vice President Garner is heralded as next year's Democratic standard bearer, but the gentle from Texas keeps mum. Michigan's Senator Vandenberg won't say "yes", and he won't say "no", when asked whether he'll attempt to lead the Republican bandwagon to victory. The gentlemen are keeping their powder dry! But some day—it's bound to happen—some candidate will shatter precedent into bits. When asked if he's going to run for the office of President, he'll answer, "Darned tootin', I'm going to run!"

TRUCKEE—HER BOOK

In the lobby of the Sierra Sun and Truckee Republican office there is a cardboard box. In that box is a stack of literature that should interest every citizen, especailly every businessman, in Truckee. It is a boxful of the new Chamber of Commerce pamphlets describing the natural and man-made advantages of vacationing and living in Truckee. There is not a merchant in the community who wouldn't do well to have fifeteen or twenty of these booklets handy for his customers to pick up and peruse or for a stranger to read and answer his own questions. These pamphlets can tell your friend in other fields all about your town better than any letter you could write him. Just drop in the office any time and get your supply—they're paid for by your chamber!

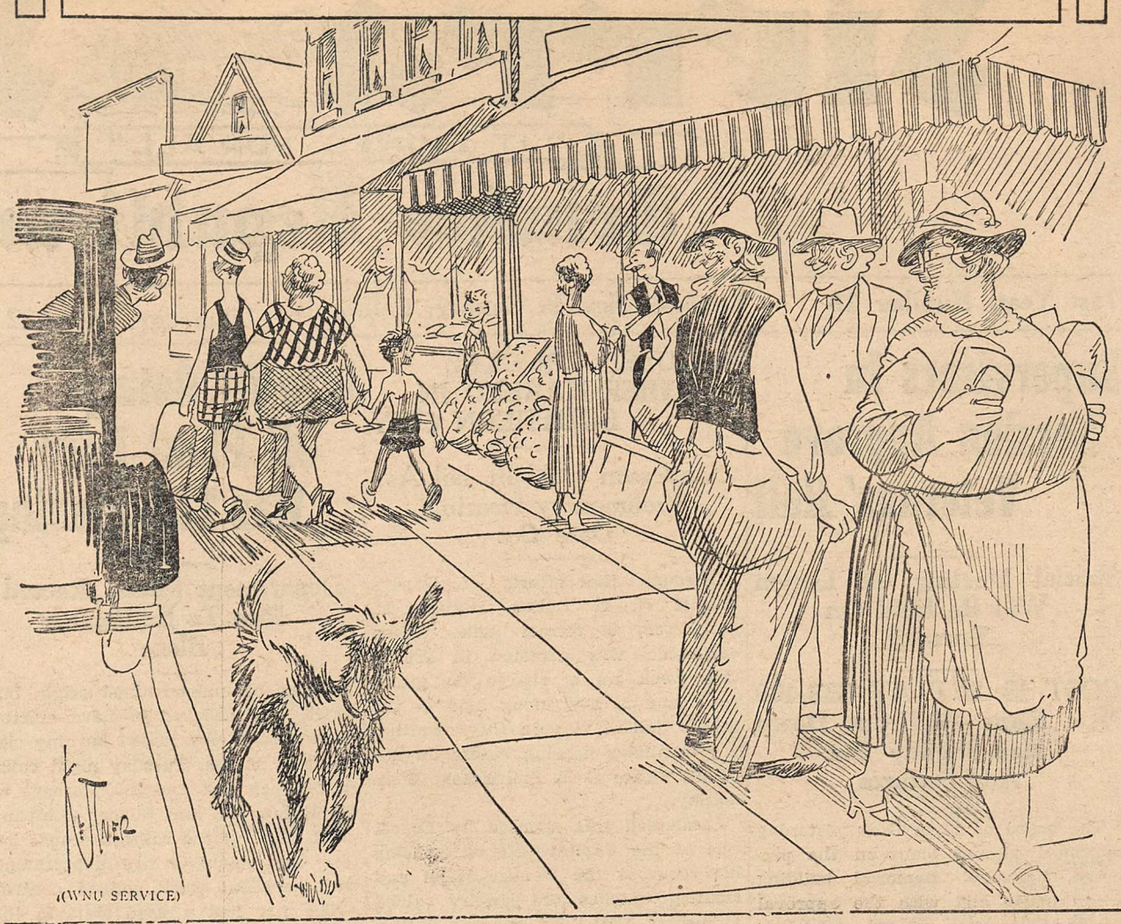
Summer Is Here



(WNU SERVICE)

POLITICALLY SPEAKING

by JOHN W. DUNLAP
United Press Staff Correspondent

SACRAMENTO, June 22 —(UP)— In just a few more days California's old capitol building will settle down to normal again after the longst legislative session in history. And that isn't the only distinction achieved by the 53rd session.

No governor in recent history has taken the uniform and consistent beating as has Governor Olson. Few sessions have accomplished as little in constructive legislation. And no previous session has seen such stalling, bickering, partisan politics, dead locks and abundance of lobbyists.

Some observers feel that Olson was too rigid and uncompromising to get much cooperation from the Legislature. He refused to back down an inch on his budget, on relief, or his various program measures and as a result suffered disheartening defeat on nearly every one. Again, there was some criticism of administration floor leaders and master minds, such as the putting of first year men into responsible committee posts.

All of these little points were capitalized on by the Republicans. When the parliamentary tricks were pulled out of the hat, it was usually the Rpubliecans doing the pulling. Olson can take little solace from what the Legislature handed him and can only hope for better luck at the special session later this year and the next session two years hence.

That brings to mind his virtual promise to do some campaigning against his opponents. A "purge" is a hard thing to put over, as witness President Roosevelt's experience, but the Governor is so frustrated he is expected to make the try.

* * * *

With the end of the Legislature, Governor Olson will have little rest for he will shove off in a few weeks for New York City and a governor's conference, where he will lead a discussion on migrant problems. Since the trip will come in the middle of the 30-day bill signing period, the Governor will take along a sheaf of bills in his brief case and study them on the train. Messages and signed bills will be sent to Sacramento via air mail.

* * * *

There is a persistent rumor that the Governor will spend many of the hot summer weeks in Los Angeles. Both in San Francisco and Los Angeles the Governor has convenient offices in the State Building and he has many friends in the southland with whom to golf, visit and confer. Sacramento's heat is wilting to many and the Governor has taken several side trips to the seashore to rest over weekends.

* * * *

For many years, it has been customary fr Assemblymen and Senators to be issued special license plates for their cars. The Senators have a red "S" and the number of their district the Assemblymen get a green "A" and their respective number. About four years ago, a special dispensation was made to give the sergeant-at-arms and chief clerk of each house a special number. At this session, the holders happen to be Senate Clerk Joe Beek, S41; Sergeant-at-Arms Joe Nolan, S42; Assembly Clerk Jack Greenberg, A81 and Sergeant-at-Arms Dave Gill, A82.

This session the rule was stretched even further. Assembly Minute Clerk Dave Oliver was given A83 and Senate Minute Clerk Boyd Garrison received S43.

Capitol wiseacres are wondering what would happen if each of the 70 Senate attaches and the 90 Assembly workers also asked for special numbers, each of which probably cost in he neighborhood of $10 per set.

* * * *

Some indication of the volume of business handled by the Legislature is shown in an eight-foot bookshelf that has accumulated. The collection includes bills introduced, histories, journals and all the other records of legislation. There are 14 seperate buiging books that have to be brought up to date each night.

There are scores of such book sets that have to be maintained by the State Printing Office. Each legislator has one, each of the newspaper correspondents and press association chiefs, government offices and other points, in addiiton to many that are sold by the state. The Legislature is really big business.

WORK RESUMED ON LAKE TAHOE ROAD

Work has been resumed on the stretch of new highway on US 50—the Placerville to Tahoe road—near Meyers, reports the National Automobile Club. This new stretch of road, 21-3 miles long, will eliminate the present Meyers Grade, the only section of the highway which has not been built to standard specifications.

Surfacing of the new road began today and will continue for a month then it will be opened to the public. In the meantime traffic continues practically uninterrupted over the old road.

OLD MEADOW LAKE MINE MAY BE OPENED

Unconfirmed rumor has it that a San Francisco machinery firm is soon to reopen the historic old Meadow Lake district.

The once famous gold mining town resulted from the accidental "strike" of Henry Hartley in 1866. The reopening has been under promotion for three years by A. L. Wisker of Grass Valley.

The original discovery incited a gold rush unprecidented in the history of California and resulted in a town of several thousand near Meadow Lake on the crest of the Sierra.

The ore is of a peculiar nature that has repeatedly defied profitable extraction to date. The original boom collapsed completely after two years. However an abundance of ore is there if a method could be devised to extract it more cheaply, it is reported.

CRIMINALS ARE YOUNG

Grass Valley Man Honored For Heroism by Vail Medal

* * * *

High honors were awarded this year to employes of three Pacific Coast telephone companies. in the national award of a silver Vail medal to an installer-repairman of Grass Valley, and regional bronze awards to a chief operator and operator at Pilot Rock, Ore. Honorable mention cetrificates were awarded to a senior testboardman in Washington, two operators in Anaheim, Cal., and a night chief operator in San Francisco.

Anounceemnt of the 1938 awards "For Noteworthy Public Service," was made here by A. P. Lietch, manager of the telephone company, following action this month by national and regional committees of award of the eBll Telephone System.

George Wilson, who is a member of the Plant Department of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph in Grass Valley, received the first silver Vail medal to be awarded a Pacific Coast telephone employe since 1929. The silver medal is accompanid by a cash reward of $250.

While repairing telephone lines in the mountains near Camptonville in February of 1938, Wilson and a coworker were caught in a blizzard.

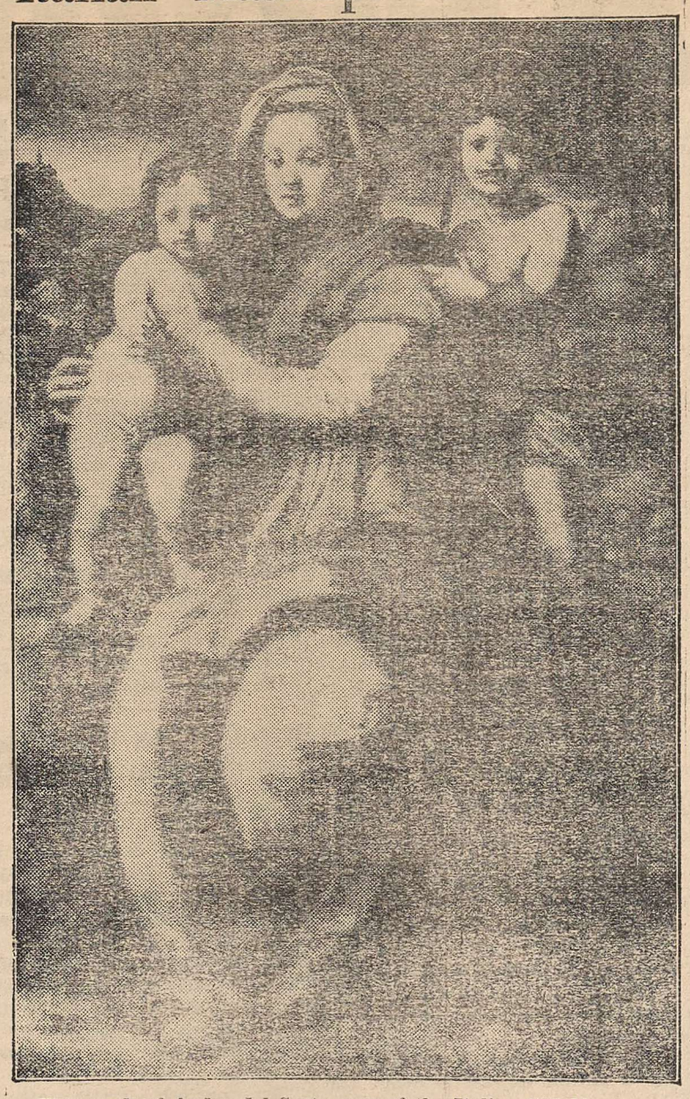
The men attempted to fight their way toward a shelter cabin a few miles away. When they had gone about a mile, Wilson's companion collapsed in the snow. Wilson made every effort to help the man but was unable to rouse him.

Moving the stricken man to the shelter of a fallen tree, Wilson covered him with his own coat and worked for about an hour and a half trying to revive, but without success. He then made his way through the raging storm to the shelter cabin. Returning with blankets and dry wood, Wilson kept a fire going and worked over the inert form for about five hours, until 11:30 p.m., when it was certain that hi scompanion was dead.

Wilson finally made his way several miles to the nearest town so that he could tell others of what had happened. He arrived at his destination early next morning, completely exhausted. In this hazardous effort he almost lost his own life.

The Vail awards have been made annually since 1920, honoring the late Theodore N. Vail, president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company. The awards recognize acts of service by employes of the telephone industry.

Italian Masterpiece At Fair



This work of Andre del Sarto, one of the Italian Old Masters on display in the Palace of Fine Arts at the California World's Fair, is the "Virgin and Child and Infant St. John." Thousands upon thousands will view the famous paintings and sculptures on Treasure Island, where they will remain until the Exposition closes.

Virginia City To Be Feted Sunday on Treasure Island

* * * *

Virginia City folks, their friends and neighbors from points throughout Nevada and Eastern California will tkae over Treasure Island Sunday, June 25, for a ceelbration entirely fitting for this historic area where history was made in the bonanza days of mining.

Everyone from Governor E. P. Carville, who will head the delegation, right on along the line, is taking a keen interest in plans for Virginia City Day, and an excellent program of special entertainment has been arranged. Ex-Governor Roswell Colcord of Carson City, now 102 years of age, is coming for the occasion, Senator Pat McCarran plans to join in, and, if possible, Senator Key Pittman will be on hand.

The old "Sazerac Club", famous Liars' Organization that added so much glowing color to the tales of early days in Virginia City, will be an event of the day, and a meeting of "E Clampus Vitus", unique mining country organization, will also be held.

Reminiscent of early days will be the musical program to be offered in which pioneer day songs and melodies will be featured.

During the day headquarters for past and present residents of the district will be maintained in the Hall of Western States, where a general get-together will be in order.

On the same day Oklahoma will be having a party, and a score of special features will be added to the usual round of ceaseless entertainment at the World's Fair on Treasure Island.

At the State Capitol

WITH YOUR ASSEMBLYMAN, THURMAN

(by Assemblyman Allen G. Thurman)

By the time this column appears in print the 53rd session of the state legislature will have adjourned sine die. Undoubtedly the legislature will be called into special session later in the year or the first of next year to handle the matter of relief. As we write these lines it is almost certain that the legislature will only appropriate relief money for one year rather than for the biennium and a special session will be necessary for the purpose of making an additional appropriation for relief. Thus far no definite relief program has been submitted to the legislature and the majority of the members of both houses believe that to hand over to the relief administration a blank check for $73,000,000 or $110,000,000 is entirely wrong regardless of the fact that blank checks have been haded out to previous administrations. The majority of the members of both houses believe that some definite program should be offered and the money allocated on that basis so that the taxpayers can have some definite assurance that their money will go directly for relief of needy persons. Your Assemblyman is opposed to the blank check idea because there is too much of chance to play politics with relief. That was demonstrated in the last national election.

We can assure those on relief that any wild stories in the radical press that the legislators want to starve those on relief is fiction of the worst type. Your legislators are concerned about the welfare of those on relief and want to know that the money they allocate for relief is spent for that purpose and that the adminis trative payrolls are not padded for political purposes. No one will strave in California regardless of what the radical press would have those on relief believe.

The past week has been the most hectic in many years as far as the state assembly is concerned. Working under a call of the house from 10 a.m, Wednesday until 1 a.m. Friday, a period of 39 hours, without sleep was somewhat unusual for even a newspaperman who is used to more or less late hours. However it wasn't so much the lack of sleep as it was the extreme nervous strain and tension the members were under with several highly controversial bills up for consideration including the oil control bill. Two members collapsed during this period, one being taken to a hospital and the other to his hotel. Another had to leave the assembly chamber for his hotel in a near collapse while others were near the verge of collapse.

During all of this period from Tuesday until Friday morning the Assembly was working under the date of Tuesday, June 13th, the clock having been stopped on that date. This fiction in the matter of the day was necessary inasmuch as Tuesday was the last day in hwich the Assembly could consider bills originating on its side of the house. Friday afternoon under a series of roll calls and adjournments we caught up with Friday as from that day on Senate bills were considered.

Next week this column will contain our final letter in which we will give a brief recapitulation of the session.

HAM 'N EGGS GET ENDORSEES

The Napa County Progressive Democrats are on record as endorsing the Retirements Lif Payments Act, radical California pension scheme advocating "$30 Every Thursday in State Warrants. This group is one of the largest Democratic clubs in Napa County.

Also recently on record favoring the plan is the Communist Party of California.

Seawell Heralded As Leader For Economy Group

SACRAMENTO, June 22— Contrasting campaign promises made by members of the present State Administration with the program actually presented by Governor Olson to the Legislature, Senator Jerrold L. Seawell of Roseville today said:

"The increases in State expenditures and the additional tax burden proposed by Governor Olson are hardly reconcilable with what I understand to have been promises made by the Governor that he would reduce expenses of State government and give relief to the already overburdened taxptpyers."

The Governor's budget message calling for $557,000,000, the largest budget request in the history of the State, and a program requiring $63,000,000 in new and additional taxes were laid before the Legislature shortly after the law-making bodies convened.

Senator Seawell, floor leader in the upper house for the economy-minded group, fought successfully to eliminate all examples of waste ad extravagance from the budget, and also led members of the Senate in the numerous fights against what they considered to be "unsound and unwise legislation".

One veteran observer at the Capitol pointed to Seawell's leadership as being "a most important factor in saving the people of California many millions of dollars in unnecessary taxes.

Despite the "greatest pressure possible" from Administration forces, the Roseville solon cam out of the session one of the recognized leaders among those "striving for sound, sane, and economical State government", in the opinion of his colleagues.

Passage Of Atkinson Oil Measure Under Protest By Legilators

SACRAMENTO, June 22— Bitterness over he Assembly's passage of the controversial oil control bill continued here today as members of the Independent Petroleum Association made plans to challenge the legality of the measure which, they claim, will ruin many small producers and increase the prices of gasoline while causing widespread unemployment in the industry.

Remaining in session under a clock which had been stopped since Tuesday, the Atkinson measure to give dictatorial control of the billion dollar oil industry to a commission of three men appointed by the Governor was passed during the "56th hour" of the fictitious day.

Assemblyman Fred Houser, R., Alhambra, put into the journal a statement in which he challenged the legality of the vote. Assemblyman Gardiner Johnson, R., Berkeley, followed wit ha similar protest accompanied with a photostat of a letter he received through the post office postmarked June 15, though the Assemblymen were still in session under roll call of June 13.

Assemblwoman Jeanette Daley, D., San Diego, who had appeared before the Governor and declared "she would stump th state to tell how he had sold out to the Standard Oil if he pressed passage of the bill", also asked her protests be added to the record.

DOWNEY AUTHORS BOOK

U. S. Senator Sheridan Downey, D., Cal., is preparing a book on penions and plans, entitled "Pensions or Penury." which will be published soon. Downey is an advocate of the Townsend O. A. R. P. P. in the Senate.

Man The At The Keyhole

(BY OPERATIVE WB)

California's Summer Capital will be the State Building at Los Angeles. Governor Culbert Olson, after more than 100 days of coping with lawmakers in the torrid temperatures of Sacramento, wants a rest in more temperate climes. And Los Angeles has been selected. As soon as the bill signing period has been completed the Governor will move bag and baggage to Los Angele and stay there for the remainder of the summer. The Sacramento Chamber of Commerce is indignant and all that—but when the thermometer reads from 100 to 110, the Chamber officials, inside their sweating jackets, don't blame him.

* * * *

Don't look now, but the 1939 State Legislature, after the second longest session in the State's history, can't boast the enactment of a single major piece of legislaion. The lawmakers chalked up an almost perfect record for voting "No". As a consequence, the record books are almost entirely negative—and Californians have fewer new laws to observe than in many decades.

* * * *

Letters are pouring into the Governor's Office from inspired ham and eggers at the rate of 10,000 a week, demanding that the special election on the Thirty Thursday proposal be held on or before August 15, but the Governor never sees them.A corps of secretaries opens and reads the letters—and Governor Olson still insists he will not consider the matter until all legislative bills are signed or vetoed. The Governor still favors holding the election in November.

DEMOCRACY ON TRIAL

HOLLYWOOD, June 22 —(UP)— Democracy must prove itself a superior system in competition with other forms of government or it will have to be replaced, Dr. Robert Gordon Sproul told the 1939 graduating seniors of the University of California at Los Angeles at their commencement exercises Saturday night in the Hollywood Bowl.

POLITICAL PARADE

By CLEM WHITAKER

If you should chance to dig into the archives of the Nniversity of Southern California in exploratory mood, you would likely stumble across a senior thesis of a few years back, entitled—"State Socialism".

And if you happened to be politically inclined, you might note with considerable interest that the author of the thesis on Marxian doctrine was one Richard C. ("Dick") Olson, son of Governor Culbert L. Olson and now his father's private secretary.

Lots of collegt youths play with the principles and precepts of Socialism during their days on the campus, however, only to become rockribbed Republicans or Jeffersonian Democrats after a few years of post-graduate experience in the work-a-day world. The incident is significant mainly because "Dick" Olson appears to be a chip off the old block and may soon start going places under his own steam and power.

Like the LaFollettes in Wisconsin the Olsons, father and son, may be on the road to founding a dynasty—if the fortunes of war smile upon them—that will leave its imprint on California politics for years to come. For whether you like the Olsons or not (and there are many folks right now who don't), they're a stubborn and determined family, with a zest for battle and a zeal for the Olson brand of liberalism.

* * * *

Just where the lightening may strike only time can tell, but "Dick" Olson, at 32, is being talked about in Democratic circles as one of the party's most promising vote-getters. And no less a person than the Honorable "Jim" Farley is said to have an eye on his development. Mr. Farley, according to report, had the idea that the younger Olson might make a fit opponent for the veteran gladiator, Senator Hiram W. Johnson, but that, perchance, is build-up, for Hiram could probably take the Democratic nomination as handily as the Republican.

But the next few years may turn up several top spots in California politics to tempt the ambitious. And "Dick" Olson, who did a workmanlike job of managing his dad's campaign last year, may take a fling at managing his own when the opportunity offers. Incidentally, his education in affairs of statecraft is not being neglected. When Governor Olson leaves in a day or two for the Conference of Governors at Albany, N. Y., "Dick" will be a member of the party. The trip may have significance for both father and son, in fact, as George Killion, the gubernatorial secretary in charge of press relations, is going along to see what can be done about booming Governor Olson as a possible contender for the Democratic nomination for vice president.

They didn't fare so well in the Legislature, but the Olsons are a hardy clan. And they're on he march, looking for new worlds to conquer.

LONDON-PARIS MILTARY CHIEFS CONFER

GOP Challenged To Run Hoover Against President

WASHINGTON, June 22 —(UP)— The third term issue was thrust before the house last Friday night in a wild session during which Representative Raymond S. McKeough, D., Ill., challenged the Republican party to nominate Herbert Hoover to run against President Roosevelt in 1940.

The challenge came as weary legislators were nearing the end of a ten-hour battle over the 1940 relief appropriation in which Republicans joined with a bloc of adminitration Democrats to turn back attacks by left-wingers and big-spending advocates.

Defending the relief record made under the New Deal, McKeough bellowed:

There was a roar of applause from the Democrats. Republicans laughed.

"You'll regret these boos," McKeough cried.

He said that those Democrats who were leading the fight against a third term for President Roosevelt would have to "eat crow", and Republican members burst forth again.

The chair gaveled him to his seat, since his time on a pending amendment to the relief act had expired, and with a friendly wave of his hand and amid tumultous applause and cheering he left the well of the chamber.

PEOPLE MAY VOTE ON LEGISLATIVE CHANGE

TICKLE AMENDMENT WOULD PROVIDE ANNUAL SESSIONS; MAKE FOR SHORT PERIODS

SACRAMENTO, June 22 —(UP)— Chances for a vote o the people on a measure to require annual sessions of th State Legislature increased this week as a Senate-approved Constitutional Amendment with that purpose went to the Assembly floor with a favorable committee recommendation.

Legislative sentiment in favor of the proposal has grown as Assemblymen and Senators have seen the present session drag through to an all-time record of nearly six months. The measure would limit the yearly sessions to 60 days each.

Senator Edward Tickle, R., Carmel introduced the amendment, he said to end the "useless" debate indulged in by legislators in early stages of the present biennial sessions.

Support of Gov. Culbert Olson was indicated at the Assembly committee hearing when Fred Links, Department of Finance budget expert, said the measure was favored because revenue and expenditures could be esimated more accurately for 12 than for 24 months.

'HEIR CHASING' BILL PASSES

SACRAMENTO, June 22 —(UP)— Governor Culbert L. Olson has signed AB1109, by Gardiner Johnson, R., Berkeley, which curbs so-called "heir chasers", and places the compensation of those who represent non-resident heirs under the control of the courts so as to prevent fraud. By giving the courts control over contracts between "heir chasers" and their clients, exorbiant charges cannot be made.

The bill was recommended by The State Bar Association.

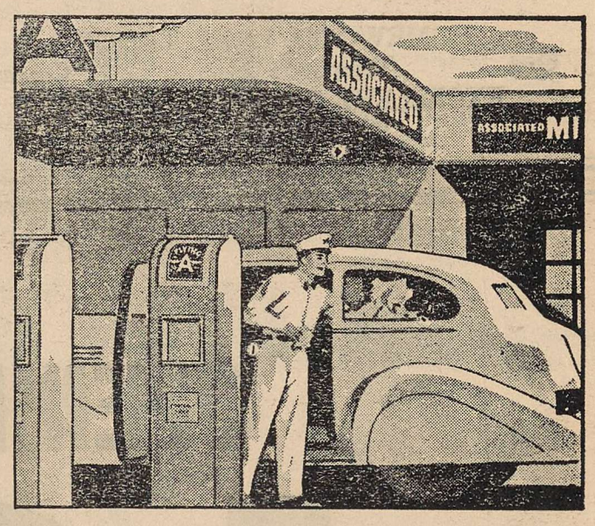
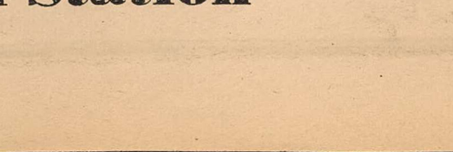
"Somewhere the children had found a piece of chocolate. Before I knew what happened the car was a mess. I lost my temper. I swung into the first service station and actually yanked Mary and Jim out of the car.



"I guess I created a bit of a scene because by the time I was through cleaning up the children (in the comfort station) the dealer had cleaned all the glass and was doing his best to clean the upholstery. That's how I discovered Associated service. And that's why I'm glad I got mad . . ."

I FOUND THE KIND OF SERVICE THE WHOLE FAMILY LIKES

100 ASSOCIATED STAMPS!
The new series of Associated Roads to Romance Stamps of the West is now being distributed by Smiling Associated Dealers. You may collect 100 fascinating subjects and a free Stamp Book in which to place them. It's fun—it's educational.



"I don't fuss about the windows any more. Dad doesn't worry about lubrication, the boys at the station keep a careful record of the things the car needs and when it needs them. The children are stamp collecting—and happy. When a family meeting place is needed it's—'meet you at the service station.' When our friends are driving down to see us for the first time it's—'ask the boys at the Associated Station.' We have our station and we like it."

Yes, the whole family finds values in friendly Associated service—especially when the gas and oil that this "service" puts in the tank and the crankcase makes the family car run better.

You'll find that an important part of Smiling Associated Service is Flying A and Aviation Ethyl gasolines. Veedol and Tydol Motor Oils.

MAYOR WARNS RACKETEERS

LOS ANGELES, June 22— The recent visit of Attorney General Frank Murphy and J. Edgar Hoover, heaas of the FBI, who flew here from the nation's capital for a conference with Mayor Fiethcer Bowron, alarmed the local lords of the underworld almost to a state of panic. Mayor Bowron, in public address recently, strongly stated that some persons very prominent in this city would soon feel the long arm coming out from the Department of Justice.

RAIL FARE REDUCTIONS

Beginning June 30, railroads in the Eastern United States will make substantial reductions in passenger fares rail sources reported this week. The Interstate Commerce Commission has given its sanction to the cuts.

JOHN NANCE GARNER

Walks two miles with deer on back

WASHINGTON, June 22— Assurances from noless a person than the vice president himself, have it that the Hatch bill to eliminate politics from relief will pass the House befor the session adjourns.

The measure, introduced by SenatorCarl Hatch, New Mexico Democrat, has already passed the Senate. It grew out of such abuses of political patronage as was evidenced in the reelection campaign of Majority Leader Senator Alben Barkley of Kentucky.

Vice President Garner said to news men in conference, "You can write that that bill will be law when we quit."

Garner, as the leading candidate for the conservative support within the Democratic party, stands to have the relief vote used against him in presidential preferenc primaries.

URGES CONFIDENCE

L. M. GIANNINI

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22— Survey of the administration's entire monetary and banking set-up as authorized last week by the Senate was warmly endorsed here by L. M. Giannini, president of Bank of America.

"A real inquiry into the credit facilities actually available to all kinds of business will be an eye-opener to the general public, who appear to have been misled as to the availability of such facilities. No new banking organizations are needed at this time. Existing institutions are willing and anxious to advance operating funds to sound borrowers. It is the borrowers who are scarce.

"As fo venture capitol, there is an abundance o that, but the owners lack confidence in the immediate future because of continuing attacks and restrictions on business. Restore that confidence, and I am satisfied there would soon be an outpouring of capital for new enterprise and expansion that would launch us on a new and thrilling upsurge of business activity and employment," declared Giannini.

At the same time, he urged that the survey extend to overlapping government agencies in the field of banking. Particularly, he thought serious study should be given to proposals which change the functions of the Comptroller of the Currency, or even abolish the office, and the importance of establishing that office which is the oldest financial-administrative body in the government, on an independent basis.

Who in 1940?

Despite tradition, President Roosevelt is ont an unlikely candidate to succeed himself in 1940. This week found two cabinet officers, Harry Hopkins and Harold Ickes, definitely come ou for a Roosevelt third term.

Rep. Mitchell, D., Ill., the only Negro Congressman, is also on record as favoring Roosevelt for reelection on the grounds that he alone, in the Democratic party, could maintain the great Negro vote. The American Federtion of Musicians, AFL, went on record this week as favoring the third term movement.

* * * *

Attorney General Frank Murphy is doing a little personal horn blowing for the Democratic nomination by advocating a billion dollar cut in the Federal payroll with no sacrifice of efficiency. His cooperation with local authorities in cleaning up rackets and machines is attracting favorable attentio and cutting into Republican Tom Dewey's glory pie. Despite his Catholic faith, a definite handicap in American politics, he is still the strongest candidate the New Deal has aside from the President.

Three-way try for the Socialist [illegible] ident is an inte[illegible] has muchas they may figure quite large on the 1940 horizon. The men are Mayor Hoan of Milwaukee, Mayor Edgar McLevy, who split the liberal vote in Connecticutt when he ran for governor last year and, of course, Norman Thomas the battle scarred veteran of the ballots who COUL make a long shot at winning.

He will play a new accordian which he claims cost $1,000. This instrument can produce 18 different changes of tune. For 25 years Diero was a headliner on the old Orpheum Circuit and has made radio apeparances and several phonograph records.

In conjunction with his appearance, Diero will conduct an accordian contest of local players. A loving cup will be awarded the winner, who will be determined by applause. He conducts a branch school in Truckee under the direction of Edith Pounds Turcott.

Manager V. C. Shattuck has announced there will be no increase in prices or this entertainment next Wednesday night when Diero will perform here at the Donner Theatre.
